Lacey Parks, Culture & Recreation Outreach

In 2021, Lacey Parks, Culture & Recreation engaged the Lacey community in a discussion about how they would like their City to look, feel, and function in the future. Based on the input received, Lacey Parks established a solid framework for future strategic planning.

Now, Lacey Parks needs your help establishing priorities.

The ultimate goal is to build a shared vision for the future of Parks, Culture, and Recreation's assets and opportunities.

In 2022, Lacey Parks will offer a variety of opportunities for you to provide additional input that will help shape future offerings.

To find out more about the project and how you can participate, visit our page. We look forward to connecting with you to learn why you personally believe Parks, Culture, and Recreation are important to our community!

CALLING ALL SPORTS FIELD USERS! We need YOU to tell us what you want to see in our parks. Take our Energize Lacey Survey to help us plan the future of sports in Lacey!

SAVE THE DATE! GREG CUOIO PARK OPEN HOUSE: WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 6 pm, LACEY CITY HALL OR ONLINE

GREG CUOIO PARK
& GREENWAYS

In April, the City completed the Greg Cuoio Park & Greenways Master Plan and is ready to move forward with the design of the Park's Phase 1A Improvements. As part of the process, the community is invited to an open house to learn more about the improvements and provide input on the proposed playground.

This is a great opportunity for community members to stay connected with the Greg Cuoio Park and Greenways Project. We hope you can make it!

HISTORY TALKS!

Edward Lange: An Early Artist in Thurston County

Wednesday, September 28
6:30 p.m.
Online via Zoom

SEPTEMBER HISTORY TALK

See how art and history combine to tell the story of Edward Lange, an artist who worked in Thurston County at the turn of the 19th/20th centuries. Born in Germany in 1846, Lange came to Long Island, New York in 1870 and moved to Olympia, Washington in 1889. For the next twenty-three years he created highly detailed drawings of farms, businesses and entire communities in Thurston County (and elsewhere in the Pacific Northwest). Lange died in 1912, but many examples of his amazing artwork still exist. They provide wonderful windows through which we can see the history of our area. In this illustrated presentation speaker Drew Crooks will include recently discovered images as well as new information.

Edward Lange, watercolor of David and Elizabeth Chambers Farm, circa 1890s.

Site is now the home of the Panorama retirement community.

SPEAKER

Drew Crooks received a Bachelor's degree in history and anthropology and a master's degree in museum studies from the University of Washington. For over 35 years he has worked with various museums in South Puget Sound, written numerous articles and five books on the region's heritage, and presented history talks to school classes and community groups.

MUSEUM EXHIBIT

JUNE 1, 2022 – NOVEMBER 1, 2022

Change was in the air. Everywhere. From Saigon to Seattle, Paris to Pasco. On college campuses, the campaign trail and evergreen peaks, Washingtonians were spurred to action. It was the year when Vietnam, civil rights, women's liberation, and conservation coalesced—the year when tragedy led the 6 o'clock news with numbing regularity. Nearly 50 million Baby Boomers were coming of age. The draft call for 1968 was 302,000, up 72,000 from the prior year. 1968 changed us in ways still rippling through our society a half-century later. This exhibit at the Lacey Museum is brought to you by Legacy Washington
